

Environmental Racism in Selma

...and what that looks like

Environmental racism means communities of color face more pollution and environmental harm.

In Selma, this shows up as pollution, poor waste management, and limited clean water access.

These issues mainly affect low-income and Black residents.

Discrimination
is NOT just about
skin color;
it's about
access,
opportunity,
and privilege.

